

Dr. Arif Husain

Chief Economist, United Nations World Food Programme (WFP)

Dr. Arif Husain is Chief Economist and Director of the Food Security Analysis and Trends Service at United Nations World Food Programme (WFP) in Rome, Italy. Arif joined WFP in 2003 and since then has served in many senior positions both in the field and the headquarters. He has also worked for the World Bank and taught at the Hubert H Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs. Arif's work focuses on analyzing food security and welfare conditions in developing countries to inform humanitarian response. His research interests include application of information technologies to improve humanitarian response; understanding linkages between poverty, hunger, conflict and migration. Arif has a PhD in agricultural and applied economics with a minor in forestry from the University of Minnesota. photo credit: WFP

Media partner:
Handelsblatt
Substanz entscheidet.

